

James Schramko here and I'm going to give you a business tip that is just going to save you so many hours. It's amazing.

The Mac's dictate feature

So I've been using an Apple Mac. I've got a Mac Air, a MacBook Pro, an iMac, and they're amazing. They got this fantastic feature which allows me to dictate. If you put a good microphone like this or a quality Rode podcaster which is what I also use, you can use the dictate feature.

Now rather than tell you all about it, I'm going to show you. We're going to go to a ScreenCast demo of how I answer 10,000 forum posts and clear my inbox just by talking. It is amazing. Come on for a demo with me.

ScreenCast demo

James Schramko here and in this video I'm going to demonstrate how easy it is to create amazing content using just a headphone and an Apple Mac. All you have to do is tap the function key twice and then talk. It's really is that easy.

That's a great progression from podcast to purchase and then implementing the tips given. One thing I would question is whether that is the perfect market. People who are struggling tend to be very difficult customers and have reduced spending power. For that reason I highly recommend you target a more lucrative market of people who are already in motion and need a turbo boost, and already have money at their disposal to throw at your solution.

Wasn't that easy?

Alright, so how easy was that? Do you think you could do it? All you need is an Apple. It comes standard with the dictation feature. Tap-tap on function and you could be just talking your way to profits, and I've got to get back and do some more forum posts.

I'm James Schramko, see you soon.
